ARELLANO'S SOUTH MIAMI HOSPITAL CLINICAL EXPANSION PROJECT RANKS AS ONE OF THE LARGEST PROJECT STARTS IN THE SOUTHEAST BY ENGINEERING NEWS RECORD SOUTHEAST

Miami, FL, March 7, 2011 – Engineering News Record (ENR) Southeast Magazine ranked the South Miami Hospital Clinical Expansion project as one of the largest projects to start construction in the Southeast. The Top Starts ranking of the Southeast's largest projects under way is a yearly glimpse into the regional market and Arellano's South Miami Hospital Clinical Expansion project was ranked nineteenth on this top twenty-five yearly ranking.

The South Miami Hospital Clinical Expansion project will consist of a 96,000 SF addition which will provide for an expanded Emergency Department, and new Surgery Suite consisting of 20 Operating Rooms with support space. The project will also include 8,500 SF of renovations to include the Critical Decision Unit, Pre-op, Recovery Areas, CT Suite and Central Sterile Processing Department. The project will be completed in four phases in order to minimize interruptions to hospital operations and has a total duration of 48 months. Additional scope of work includes new hurricane hardened building envelope to exceed building code requirements and extensive electromechanical infrastructure upgrades.

"Arellano is proud to have a project recognized by Engineering News Record as one of the largest in the Southeast. This accomplishment is the result of our expertise in healthcare construction and ability to deliver time and time again to our clients," said Agustin Arellano, President and CEO.
